FIND WHISKY IN WATER BOTTLES IN SHERIFF RAID

Novel Method of Concealing
Booze Discovered In Raid
On Rooming House That Uncovers Quantity of Booze

In a raid on the Den rooming house, Sheriff John G. Montgomery yesterday succeeded in a seizure of eight gallons of whisky and in taking into custody Sidney L. Toban, alleged to be one of the most notorious bootleggers in Maricopa county and to have come under the suspicion of the federal authorities who are investigating serious charges against him.

At the noon hour Sheriff Montgomery, accompanied by Charles Bowers, Jim Troutman and Ernest Wilson, deputies from his office, and E. C. Crowe of the city police, armed with search warrants, entered the Den. Every room in the building was thoroughly searched.

Finally, at the end of two hours' investigation, the officers discovered the hiding place of a large quantity of liquor in a closet in the room occupied by Toban. Between the floor and ceiling were hidden 16 large water bottles filled with whisky while several pint bottles found place in the spaces between. There were still smaller bottles holding "one drink" which it is alleged were sold on the city streets for 25 cents. In all the sheriff estimates the amount of liquor at eight gallons.

Mrs. Belle Ryan, manager of the rooming house, was escorted with the authorities several hours yesterday and at the close of the interview the officers stated that they were convinced that she had no connection with the crime.

The entire blame was placed on Toban, for in the last apartment in the house were to be found the traps and secret passages that Toban is said to have arranged in his room. That the house could not be held responsible for the actions of one of its inmates was the statement of the arresting officer who believed Mrs. Ryan for all blame.

Shortly before the raid on the Den, Deputy Sheriff Troutman was walking on Second avenue, shadowing a man who had come under his suspicion. After a few blocks had been covered, the stranger in the lead dropped two heavy suitcases and disappeared. The suitcases were found to contain 22 pints of whisky and these have been added to the fast-filling storehouse on the second floor of the county jail.

The men arrested in Glendale and Peoria by men from the sheriff's office on Sunday were taken before Justice Wheeler yesterday for arraignment. Harry E. McQueen furnished bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the preliminary examination set for 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The same amount of bail was fixed for Charles Grady and Nicholas Neamonikas, who were unable to give bond. Their hearing was also set for Wednesday at the same hour.

Make Another Haul
A further addition to the quantity of captured bootlegger booze was made last evening when Sheriff Montgomery and Deputy Jim Troutman seized two cases of whisky found in the baggage room at Peoria.

COCHRANE BEATS SCHAEFER

DETROIT, Jan. 12.—Welker Cochran of New York defeated Jake Schaefer of San Francisco, 4,200 to 3,855, in the fourteen-block, 18.2, ball line, billiard match, which concluded here tonight. Cochran has challenged Willie Hoppe. Cochran won eight blocks, his high run being 188 and his grand average 41.81.

SET SUPREME COURT CASES.
The supreme court yesterday called the calendar and set many cases for hearing within a period from the latter part of this month to the middle of March.

SECOND WAVE OF INFLUENZA NOW IS ON DECREASE

Strict Quarantine Regulations Have Had Good Effect Report Shows With 151 Releases Past 48 Hours

For the first time in two weeks, the official influenza report yesterday showed a decrease in the number of cases existing in Phoenix. The report which covered two days, brought the total number of cases down from 714 to 639, a net gain over the epidemic of 75 cases. With this first favorable report, health officials expressed the opinion that the crest of the "flu" wave has been safely passed.

The official report of the health department last night showed a total of 32 new cases for the two days, of which 26 were in the city and 6 in hospitals. Opposed to this there were 151 releases for the same 48-hour period, all but 14 of them in the city. The big percentage of releases over new cases was taken to indicate the beginning of the wane of the epidemic.

During 48 Hours 6 Deaths
One discouraging feature was contained in the two day report, however. It contained six deaths from influenza, two of them occurring in the Sisters' Hospital yesterday.

Although yesterday's report was considered distinctly favorable, one phase of the situation aroused some queries among health officials. Of the 66 cases in the city reported yesterday, 21 were reported early Sunday morning by one physician, leaving the other doctors in the city, numbering more than 30, only 45 reported cases for two days. Some doubts that all physicians are reporting all their cases were expressed.

The big decrease in the epidemic shown yesterday was attributed by the health department to the strict quarantine measures adopted when the epidemic first began its second rise. Practically every case of the disease has been isolated under the quarantine regulations, and the fifty special police deputies used by the health department have done valuable work in seeing that no new developments on the dates of the reopening of the schools were indicated yesterday. Although it is possible that the schools may reopen sometime this week, if the situation improves sufficiently to warrant such a move, the general impression was that there will be no school until next week.

GERMANY AS IT IS TODAY
The German empire, better known as the German vanguard, embraces 298,826 square miles, but not a single square mile, says the Brooklyn Eagle. It comprises four kingdoms, six grand duchies and 3,816,341 grand goosetops. In outline and inclination it is highly irregular. On the east is bounded by the north it is bounded by the allied fleets and on the west by General Foch.

The principal waterways of Germany are the Rhine and the Kiel canal. The high C's now under its control are confined to the open house. The Kiel canal is used for exercise by the battle ships on pleasant Sundays. The sea board, greatly restricted like all other kinds of board, is known as the high cog of living. The country is not entirely on the level. It has, in the interior, a large table land, entirely empty. There are also deep depressions in all parts of the nation.

Berlin, the capital, was established in the thirteenth century, on the Spree river. It has not yet recovered. The inhabitants are divided into two main classes—junks and junkies. The present fooler is Kaiser Billious II. His principal occupation is looking for a place in the sun. There is something warmer than that in store for him. It sounds something like Heligoland. The crown prince is the barely apparent. The national motto is "Spurlos verankert"—Pathfinder.

BAR ASSOCIATION MAKES PROVISION FOR DISBARMENT

Executive board for 1919:
George D. Christy, Phoenix, president.
Judge John H. Campbell, Tucson, vice president.
J. E. Nelson, Phoenix, secretary-treasurer.
Judge Carl G. Krook, Kingman,
E. S. Clark of Prescott, and C. B.
Ward, Phoenix, directors.

Recommending legislation that will fill in omissions and correct conflicts in the statutes, the Arizona Bar association met yesterday afternoon in the court house and appointed a special committee to draft bills which will be presented to the legislature with the endorsement of the bar association.

The promised sensational features of the session did not materialize, but the initial steps toward what the bar association contemplates were taken when the motion to prepare a law providing for the disbarment of members found guilty of unprofessional conduct of the Arizona bar association, was unanimously carried.

The bill will be framed by the following committee named by Judge Joseph H. Kibbey, president of the association who presided at the meeting: George D. Christy, chairman, C. B. Wilson of Flagstaff, C. B. Ward, G. P. Nevitt and F. H. Larsen. Power was delegated to the committee to draw up other proposed legislation to correct certain defects in the law.

After the meeting had been called to order and routine matters dispensed with, Captain Christy called attention to the fact that there is no legal method provided by the statutes for the disbarment of members. His suggestion of the method of procedure was that a committee be appointed to investigate charges made, with power to subpoena witnesses, take testimony which after being transcribed be transmitted to the court with the committee's recommendation. The court, if it believes the testimony warrants, will refer the matter to the county attorney for action. Captain Christy's suggestion was met with decided approval and the lawyers voted that some such adequate provision be proposed to the legislative assembly.

That the primary law be amended to make the judges of the supreme and superior courts appear as non-partisans on the ballot, was the suggestion offered by George Purdy Ballard. Mr. Ballard stated that the ballot should bear the names of candidates of all party affiliations so that the voter might carry out the spirit and letter of the constitution which provides that the judges be non-partisan. Under the present plan, on the primary democratic ballot only the name of the judge of that party appears, while it is the same with the republican ballot. The motion that some method of making the judgeships strictly non-partisan on the ballot was carried unanimously and referred to the committee. The suggestion by B. E. Marks that a law be prepared covering expert testimony was made into a motion by Mr. Ballard and carried. It was pointed out that in personal injury suits it was particularly necessary to have disinterested and unbiased testimony and that if either party demand expert medical testimony it would be of more value if the expert were chosen by the court.

Thomas J. Croaff declared he would not favor a change. He refused, he said, to go on record to change laws the labor people had procured and "would fight to retain it."

Changes in the laws relative to community property met with favorable action, and a motion to increase the membership of the State Bar association and perfect organization also carried. Captain Christy will shortly name seven members to serve on this committee with a resident member of each county to aid the committee in working for results.

After the election of officers the meeting adjourned.

TELLS OF WELCOME FRISCO GAVE 143RD

Arriving in Phoenix yesterday from the Presidio in San Francisco was J. W. Abbott of the 143rd field artillery, Sunshine division. The Hundred and Forty Third field artillery is just home from France, where two days before the armistice was signed it was prepared to leave Bordeaux and enter the thickest of the fighting, outside of Metz.

Mr. Abbott said that since leaving San Francisco the boys of the three batteries, A, B, and C, had their share of real thrills. They went through a train wreck in Indiana and a submarine attack in the Irish Channel near Lough.

The ovation which greeted the One Hundred Forty Third in San Francisco was a public demonstration unmistakable in its sincerity. Mary Pickford, long ago put in honorary command of the 143rd, made a special trip to San Francisco with her mother to be present at the reception. From the foot of Market street in San Francisco the boys, headed by Colonel Faneuf and Honorary Colonel Mary Pickford, marched up Market street to the Civic center, where they were reviewed as they passed before the mayor. At Geary street and Van Ness avenue cars were waiting for them and they rode out to the Presidio where they remained until mustered out. Though worn out by the excitement of homecoming and fatigued by the long journey, Mr. Abbott said no happier soldiers ever passed through the Presidio's gates.

METEORIC IRON IN PREHISTORIC WEAPON
(Scientific American)

In the old world the art of smelting ores was discovered about 1200 B. C. It has sometimes been suggested that iron tools and weapons may have been made as an earlier period from meteorites, and recently a considerable amount of evidence in behalf of this hypothesis has been presented by C. P. Zimmerman.

He has compiled a list of the known iron-containing meteorites, nearly all accumulated within the past century, and he shows from these alone about 250 tons of iron might be obtained. Of this amount more than 99 per cent is malleable, consisting of a nickel-iron alloy. He also shows by means of a series of illustrations how easy it is to detach from the meteorites fragments of iron suitable for use as tools or implements when mounted in handles.

AMUSEMENTS 'THE COUNTRY COUSIN' OPENS STAGE SEASON

The Columbia theater will usher in the legitimate stage theatrical season Tuesday and Wednesday, January 21 and 22, by offering Alexandra Carlisle in "The Country Cousin." Three performances will be given, including a matinee Wednesday afternoon. Phoenix has been fortunate in securing this, the original company which produced the play with such success in New York and other eastern theatrical centers. It is a Klaw & Erlanger and George C. Tyler production and regarded as one of the best being presented by these big theatrical interests this year.

In addition to Miss Alexandra Carlisle, the cast includes such well known stage stars as Alfred Lunt, Genevieve Tobin, Julia Stuart, Grace Hampton and Albert Tavernier.

It must be remembered that this is not a film play, but a genuine stage production.

Wm. S. Hart at Columbia
One of the grimmest incidents ever portrayed on the screen is shown in "The Gun Fighter," featuring William S. Hart, at the Columbia theater today and Wednesday.

The cumulative point of interest in this tense story is shown when Hart meets his long hated adversary face to face. The feud of hate calls for the death of one and, according to the code, are placed back to back and are so advanced ten paces simultaneously, then turn and fire. The manner in which this scene is played is said to be one of the finest examples of sustained dramatic effect ever offered.

A Chester-Cutting scenic travel film, the fifth in the beautiful series, will augment the big Hart feature.

Children Free Today
All children are invited free to the American this afternoon as the guests of the management to see Dainty Madge Evans and Johnny Hines in "Neighbors," a truly delightful story—winsome and appealing. Unusual situations add to its charm. Madge Evans is delightful and Johnny Hines was never better.

On the same program will be shown the latest Gaumont News and the clever Katzenjammer cartoon comedy.

"Business of Life," at Plaza
A great society drama entitled "The Business of Life" will be shown today and tomorrow at the Plaza theater. It is founded on Robert Chambers drama of the same name and tells a beautiful love story. A two reel William S. Hart picture will also be shown, entitled "The Man From the West." On Thursday and Friday the greatest picture of the day will be shown. It is the great California love story "Ramona."

Hip Has Melodrama Today
At the Hip today is a story of a chap who awakes to find himself broke and starts out to get back the money his false partner has squandered. How he makes a million in the given time is told with such a dash that "Brewster's Millions" looked like a poor imitation. A strong western filler is also to be seen with the feature. This picture runs for two days and will be followed by Harry Carey in "Three Mounted Men his very latest thriller."
